

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:
October 28, 2022

Marion Garden Group News:

The fall window boxes, urns and planters around Marion are colorful reminders of this beautiful season of brilliant blue skies, blazing leaves, pleasant temperatures and occasional rain to keep things fresh. Members of the Marion Garden Group create and care for these embellishments around the town.

Last week MGG hosted a flower arranging workshop at the Marion Council on Ageing. Leader, Sylvia Strand, demonstrated and guided a group of about 20 people as they created their own original masterpieces. One woman exclaimed, "I can't believe I made that!" Organizers Pam Norweb and Nan Johnson plan to offer more workshops in the future.

Mark your calendar: DECEMBER 10 is the Annual Holiday Boutique at the Music Hall. In addition to their regular duties, MGG members put on elf hats in the fall, and are busy creating unique, one-of-a-kind Holiday decorations of fresh greens, ornaments and other hand-made surprises. Doors open at 9:00 am.

For more information about go to website: mariongardengroup.org.

Photos attached